ANNUAL REPORT FOR 2010

YEAR IN REVIEW

THE YEAR IN JAZZ

JAZZ UNDER THE STARS

Annual Report 2010

Key of G – Dennis Green

To Our Friends and Supporters:

our daily and weekly shows.

2010 was another busy and fulfilling year for your local jazz radio station. We brought the world of jazz to your car or living room, airing a number of live jazz events, from within our Corridor, around the nation and around the world. We worked with students of all ages, introducing them to music we hope will be an important part of their lives. And you enjoyed thousands of hours of music and companionship during

And, maybe if there is one thing that sets what we do apart from the plethora of music services available to you these days, it's that we are not just a big jazz iPod set on shuffle. KCCCK is about people in addition to the music. People who are your daily companions, maybe even people you think of as friends. When someone contacts us with a question about a song we played, it's rarely phrased "What was the song that played at 9:30 yesterday?" It's more likely to be, "What was that tune Mark played this morning?" or "I learned so much listening to Craig last weekend!"

We're people who love music, and people who enjoy sharing that music with you.

In the following pages, you'll read more about all these projects, as well as the people like you whose donations have made our work possible in the last fiscal year. We want to thank everyone who has joined us in helping us fulfill our mission.

And as always, if you have thoughts, comments or suggestions about any aspect of KCCCK, please never hesitate to let us know!

Sincerely,

Dennis Green

The Year in Review

In 2010, KCCK continued to show the value of a local, noncommercial jazz radio station in an era of Web radio, Pandora and personal music players. We brought jazz to your neighborhood with fun live concerts, like the UI Jazz Repertory Ensemble at The Mill, Jazz at Melrose Meadows in Iowa City and Jazz at Cottage Grove Place in Cedar Rapids.

We celebrated the fourth year of The Corridor Jazz Project with a concert and CD Release party held at The Concert Hall At Prairie High School. Cedar Rapids Xavier also joined the project for the first time. The Iowa Bandmasters Association has called the Corridor Jazz Project the "crown jewel of jazz education in Iowa."

This spring, KCCK broadcast a live performance of the UI Jazz Repertory Ensemble at The Mill Restaurant in Iowa City. Joining JRE were the UI's top jazz band, Johnson County Landmark, and the Iowa City West Jazz Ensemble.

KCCK also hosted two neighborhood concerts, the Dick Watson Trio on the lawn at Melrose Meadows and Eddie Piccard at Cottage Grove Place in Cedar Rapids.

In July, KCCK again participated in the Toyota-Scion of Iowa City Jazz Festival, providing a live broadcast and interviews with many of the main stage performers. We've been happy to bring recordings of the 2010 festival to our listening audience at various times throughout the year.

We've also hosted some exciting performers in our studio. 2010 highlights have included California guitarist Jennifer Lee, appearing with Pat Smith and Rich Wagor, Freddie Cole guitarist Gary Napoleon, and 17-year old Ariel Pokock. This Seattle-area high school student won BOTH Best Piano and Best Vocal awards at Lincoln Center's Essentially Ellington Festival. When she's a big star, we'll be proud to say we saw her early in her career.

In 2011, we look forward to more opportunities to bring jazz to your neighborhood and music to your life!

2010 - The Year in Jazz

Bob Stewart
KCCCK Program Director

Looking back on 2010 for jazz and KCCCK, it was another year of highs and lows. The year started with Grammy Awards being bestowed on some of our favorites, including the great Kurt Elling, the premiere male jazz vocalist on the scene today. After getting to enjoy his performance at Hancher, his disc, "Dedicated to You: the Music of Hartman and Coltrane" picked up the Vocal Jazz Grammy with essentially the same repertoire we heard at his concert. Keyboardist Chick Corea, who performed at the Englert in April, picked up a Grammy for his work with guitarist John McLaughlin in a revival of their Five Peace Band. And the great keyboardist Joe Zawinul was awarded a Grammy for the final disc he recorded with his band Syndicate. We were also fortunate to receive and feature his final appearance on disc before his passing, his work playing and arranging for the big band the Absolute Ensemble.

Other notable discs from 2010 included the welcome return of veteran singer and composer Mose Allison and his first recording in 12 years; a previously-unreleased live disc from the late Grover Washington Jr.; and the third release from the young bass phenom Esperanza Spalding, who also set up shop for a Hancher show later in the year. It was a busy year for jazz releases from the Corridor jazz community, including keyboardist Tim Daugherty's musical reflections on the Floods of 2008, "River of Promise"; Koplant No's debut release featuring their unique blend of jazz, rock and electronica; and the always-impeccable U of I Latin Jazz Ensemble under James Drier's steady leadership.

And a review of the year wouldn't be complete without noting the passing of a handful of significant jazz legends. That list included guitarist Herb Ellis, a member of the great Oscar Peterson Trio of the 1950s; singer Abbey Lincoln who, with her husband drummer Max Roach, was a strong voice in the American civil rights movement of the '60s; pianist Hank Jones, the last surviving member of the great Jones Brothers of Detroit which included trumpeter and bandleader Thad and drummer Elvin; saxophonist/flutist James Moody, an institution in jazz from the late '40s into the 21st Century who was active right up until the end releasing his final CD in the fall at age 85; and Dr. Billy Taylor, who was not only one of the premiere pianists and composers of the genre, but was also a tireless and articulate spokesman for the music, from his creation of the Jazzmobile in the 1960s which introduced jazz to the neighborhoods and boroughs of New York, to his founding and directing of the popular public radio program "Jazz Alive," to his profiles on CBS' "Sunday Morning" television program, which were so successful in introducing jazz to a wider audience.

Pianist Chick Corea performed at the Englert in April 2010.

LAUREN AND PETER DIG THE IOWA CHANNEL

A few weeks ago, we discovered two TV stars have discovered and enjoy KCCCK's All-Iowan music service, The Iowa Channel.

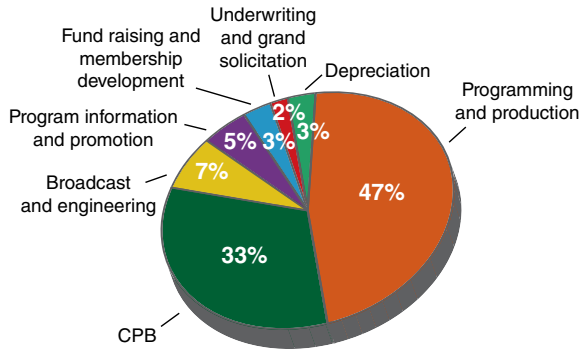

General Manager Dennis Green received an email from a listener in Los Angeles, asking about the Iowa Channel, and wondering if the station was getting some hits from LA because of the article in the LA Times about Lauren Graham.

After getting a scan of the article, from "Parade Healthy Style," we discovered that the Iowa Channel is an online listening favorite of "Gilmore Girls" and "Parenthood" star Lauren Graham, along with her co-star and real-life boy friend, Peter Krause.

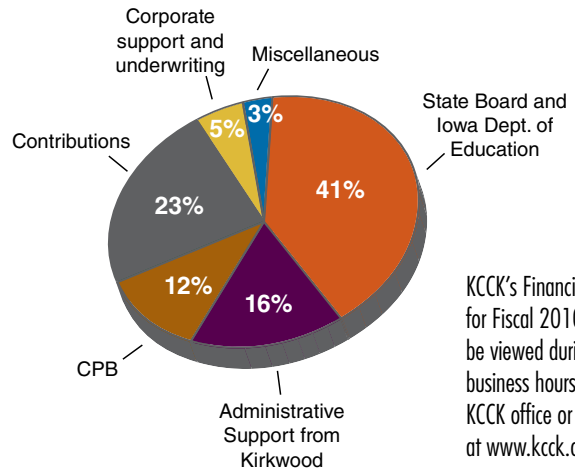

We're not sure how the two celebs found the Iowa Channel, but we're happy that they, along with hundreds of other listeners around Iowa and around the country, are discovering the wealth of great music our channel features from Iowans.

Dennis Green and Lisa Baum pose with KCCK's "Icky," the Iowa Cultural Corridor Alliance Award for Innovation, received for our jazz education program, Schoolhouse Jazz.

Jazz Band Camp

For the past five years, KCCK has hosted more than 50 area kids entering grades 6-9 with an interest in jazz band. They all have at least one year of band experience, but may know little about jazz. They bring their skills and their drive to the Kirkwood campus for a week of personal instruction, small combo and large group performances, and a whole lot of fun!

Co-directors Dennis McPartland and Al Naylor share the classrooms and stage with other gifted musical faculty members and guest performers who work with the kids on a variety of levels. The culmination of the week is a performance in Ballantyne Auditorium where the kids can show just how much they've learned in one short week. Many students make the camp an annual "must do" and guest performers often include jazz band camp alumni. Corridor students have the opportunity to work with some great teachers to expand their knowledge and skills while meeting other kids and having fun.

Jazz Under the Stars

For the first time in several years, all four Jazz Under The Stars concerts took place under clear skies. What a relief to not have to worry about rainouts. Huge crowds turned out to watch each concert.

Thanks

Our thanks to the individuals and companies who invested in jazz public radio with a contribution in 2010.

A special thanks to new KCCK members, listed in bold type.

KCCK's continued existence rests solely on the support of our listeners. YOU keep the jazz playing on KCCK!

The following list reflects charitable gifts given to KCCK between January 1 and December 31, 2010. While every effort has been made to ensure that this report is accurate, we apologize in advance if we failed to list your name properly. Due to space limitations, we are unable to list the names of donors with gifts below $25, but we are extremely grateful to each and every person who supports KCCK at the level of giving that is comfortable for them. How To Help

Membership

Unlike commercial radio stations, public radio stations like KCCCK need support from listeners and the community to stay on the air. KCCCK is Iowa's only jazz radio station and can only continue playing jazz on the radio, and supporting jazz education in the schools through support by people who listen to the station and others who value jazz as an entertainment and cultural idiom. Donations to KCCCK are fully tax-deductible through the Kirkwood Foundation.

KCCCK is not a part of the Iowa Public Radio network, and so receives no part of their statewide pledge drives.

Underwriting

Businesses who value arts and culture as one of the key attractors to the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City community, and who want to associate their business with the affluent and attractive audience who listens to jazz on the radio, can support KCCCK through corporate underwriting. Nearly 16,000 people a week spend dozens of hours with KCCCK. Wouldn't you like to show them your business shares a common interest in jazz and the arts?

How To Help

Planned and Stock Gifts
Estate planning, stock gifts and IRA rollovers are additional ways you can make sure the jazz keeps playing, not only for your own enjoyment, but for your children and grandchildren. To include KCKC in your will, or other financial planning tool, contact your financial advisor.

For more information about any of these opportunities, or to make a gift to KCKC, contact KCKC's Development Office at 319-398-5421 or give online at www.kcck.org.

The KCKC Future Fund

Our thanks to these special members of KCKC who have done their part to make sure the jazz keeps playing for future generations. They have created a planned gift through a charitable trust, charitable gift annuity, life insurance policy, bequest or retirement plan designation.

Member Profile Dave Hesli and Elly Harris-Hesli

Dave Hesli admires good jazz...just ask his wife. "He's been a student his whole life, without being a player," says his wife Elly Harris-Hesli. "And he's shared his enthusiasm for classic jazz with me from the beginning of our relationship."

Dave says he gained an appreciation of jazz through his parents. "I grew up on it."

Although Elly enjoys all genres of music, she's taken a serious interest in jazz.

Recently Elly gave Dave a framed reproduction of the celebrated 1958 Art Kane photograph "Great Day in Harlem," depicting 57 jazz legends. "It's a remarkable feat to have pulled that many greats together." Together Dave and Elly have been working their way through the discographies of many of them.

Dave's enthusiasm for KCCK has also been an instrumental part of keeping his employer, Pat McGrath Chevyland involved as a corporate supporter of KCCK. "Our sponsorship of Jazz Under the Stars shows our company's interest in supporting family-friendly community activities."

Last fall the Hesli's traveled to San Antonio on business but easily sneaked in some time to take in Jim Cullum's shows at The Landing... the legendary club on the famous Riverwalk where the syndicated "Riverwalk Jazz" is produced. "He's an amazing teacher as he introduces the song and gives important background to each tune," says Elly. "We both learned a lot."
